König + Neurath
develops office furniture and room systems for individual work cultures

As a one-stop-shop supplier we create attractive working environments ...

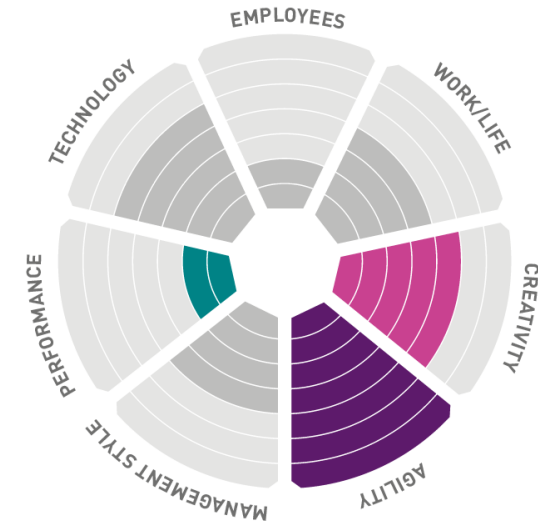

- + Desk systems
- + Seating
- + Soft seating
- + Storage
- + Room systems
- + K+N SMART.OFFICE

... that support the working culture you desire

WORK.CULTURE.MAP

← Open space solution with K+N STANDBY.OFFICE 2.0 and K+N BALANCE.CHAIR
For example, if the analysis shows that a company's agility rating tends towards "dynamic", and the attitude to performance is more "individualistic" than "team", the design proposals by König + Neurath would ensure that equal scope is provided for concentration at temporary individual workstations and for flexibility within the room - even in open-space situations like this.

Company

1925

From carpenter's workshop to furniture producer: Heinrich Neurath founded a business in Karben making free-standing cabinets. Five years later his son-in-law Heinrich König became a partner.

1947

Boom: when Egon König, son of Heinrich König, started work there, the production area measured just 3000 square metres.

1982

The European marketplace: König + Neurath opened the first international showroom in London.

Products

1955

König + Neurath mainly supplied goods to authorities and public services in the post-war era – but later the customer base broadened to include banks, insurance companies and industries.

1982

Innovative spirit: designer Hartmut Esslinger developed the Apple Computer in California, and for König + Neurath in Karben he created the innovative KING ALPHA desk programme with height adjustment and integral cable management.

1986

Success model: The KING BETA furniture range became a bestseller.

1996

New structures:
Egon König floated König + Neurath on the stock market.

2014

Flexibility: Thanks to the modern distribution planning system, König + Neurath trucks were now far more efficient with GPS-optimised routes.

2016

Premium performance: the company is one of Europe's leading office furniture manufacturers.

A generation of grandchildren is now working in the company –
Viktoria König, Ludwig König and Erik Schönfeld.

2000

Time-hop to the start of the new millennium:
König + Neurath became a pioneer in the workplace with the all-in-one compact office, STANDBY.OFFICE.

Trendsetter in central zone products:
with NET.WORK.PLACE, König + Neurath set
new standards in modern workplace design once again.

today

Award-winning design:
The four style collections, PURE,
TIMELESS, VISION and FLOW serve as an orientation basis when selecting products.

Prize winners such as the AURAY task chair and the dynamic miracle K+N BALANCE.CHAIR are out-standing products within the portfolio, alongside room systems such as INSIDE.CUBE and QUIET.BOX.

A development that received the German Brand Award –and is committed to the future
